Chase Helps Recover Stolen TV

A color television set valued at $359 taken in a break-in early today at Lewis Furniture Co., 650 West Malone, was recovered through the efforts of an interested person.

Chuck Linderman, manager of the 21 Club on West Malone, was returning to town at about 1:30 a.m. today when he saw a Negro man carrying a television set running west on Malone near the Cream Castle. Linderman chased the man and he ran behind a trailer of a tractor trailer parked at the C & H Service Station, 808 West Malone.

The Negro then ran across the tracks into Sunset Addition, Linderman told investigating officers Sgt. Lawrence Woodward and patrolman Jack C. Patterson.

Police then searched the area and found the front door glass of the furniture company broken. O. C. Lewis, store owner, and Taylor Noles, salesman, were called. They checked the television set and found it was missing. The television set was recovered. It had been placed under the trailer in the C & H Service Station.

In other activity, Walter J. Miles, Bloomfield, reported to police at 3:40 a.m. Sunday that his aluminum Wolverine boat valued at $200 and the trailer it was on were taken from his pickup truck between 11:30 p.m. Saturday and 1:30 a.m. Sunday while the vehicle was parked at the Wagon Wheel, 849 West Malone.

Grover Kelly, 819 rear West Malone, reported to police at 4:45 a.m. Sunday that a 1967 Ford Mustang was stolen from his driveway.

Harriman Says Viet South Approves Talk Positions

PARIS (AP) — Vietnam peace negotiators W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance called on South Vietnam's observer here today for a 45-minute review of the talks thus far.

Harriman told newsmen as he left the South Vietnamese consulate that he and Bui Diem, who is South Vietnam's ambassador to Washington, had agreed "the affirmative position taken by the United States delegation in the talks was the correct one, rather than getting involved in the propaganda exercise which has characterized the Hanoi approach."

When he arrived at the South Vietnamese consulate, Harriman told newsmen he wanted to "get some information from the South Vietnamese delegation and to keep them fully informed. We want to get their point of view and judgment."

Knowledgeable American and French diplomats believe a compromise way will be found to end the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, reduce North Vietnamese infiltration into the South and move to full-scale peace negotiations.

But the possibility that the differences between the Americans and the North Vietnamese will persist and that the talks will eventually collapse cannot be ruled out.

The expectation of a compromise agreement rests on the belief that the final purpose of both sides is to make peace. That remains to be proved.

One main purpose of the United States and North Vietnam in the talks to date has been to find out what the other's real expectation is. A second objective has been to try to build up public opinion to support its demand.

To counter this, the United States, with a similar combination of diplomacy and propaganda, has demanded some leveling off or cutting back of North Vietnamese infiltration into the South to justify an end to the rest of the bombing, now confined to the area south of the 19th parallel.

Perhaps if the talks go beyond the stage of stating positions and making propaganda, some effort to develop a common view of the war will be undertaken. It probably will be done first in secret talks.

The hope of those who are cautiously optimistic is that both sides have decided that neither can win and that the cost of the war is too high for them to go on fighting.

'Laugh-in' Top Emmy Winner

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It was "sock it to me" time at the Television Academy as three Emmy awards were given to the raucous "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-in."

The NBC show, a mad rocket-gun combination of outrageous gags and blackouts, won the award for best musical or variety series, and special. Laugh-in was presented as a special before taking to the air as a series in midseason.

The show's platoon of writers won Emmys for best variety writing.

In the other major categories, the awards Sunday night had the look of a rerun. Repeat winners included: Lucille Ball, best actress-star in a comedy series; Don Adams of "Get Smar," best actor-star in a comedy series; William E. Glosemeyer, best supporting actor in a comedy series; Barbara Bain of "Mission: Impossible," best actress-star in a dramatic series; Bill Cosby of "I Spy," best actor-star in a dramatic series; "Mission: Impossible," outstanding dramatic series.

Other awards went to 82. Milburn Stone, the "Doc" of a single dramatic role, for the long-running "Gunsmoke," won heavy applause as best supporting actor in a drama. Two second bananas who Not Go Gentle into That Good approach starring status were cited for "outstanding individual achievement": Art Carney of "The Jackie Gleason Show" and best supporting actress, "Brothers Comedy Hour."

In contrast to the over-length Oscar show, the Emmy telecast ran an hour and 45 minutes. But Klemperer, "Hogan's Heroes," the awards were deadeningly outstanding writing in drama, profuse; there were 52 Loring Mandel, "Do Not Go Gentle into That Good Night," claimed their Emmies for supporting actress in a comedy in New York often dissolved went to Marion Lorne, the into chaos, with master of flattery witch of "Bewitched," ceremonies Dick Van Dyke She died two weeks ago at age struggling to keep order.

Shipping Declines Into Viet North

WASHINGTON (AP) — said there has been no significant rise in the number of vessels bound for North Vietnam. The United States has means of monitoring shipping from Vladivostok, Hong Kong, through the Dardanelles and other places traveled by North Vietnam-bound vessels.

U.S. officials whose job is watching the flow of shipping to North Vietnam speculate one reason the traffic hasn't increased is that the Haiphong port, in particular, is operating at maximum capacity. They say dredging apparently has not yet cleared away enough silt to permit a larger number of seagoing ships into the harbor.

The Communists turned to smaller vessels earlier this year because silt was choking channels and waterways leading into the country's biggest port.

During the time when American bombers ranged virtually all over North Vietnam, Hanoi maritime authorities undertook only limited dredging of Haiphong harbor approaches.

World War Vets Pick Slinkard

Paul Slinkard was elected commander of the Missouri department of the Veterans of World War I at the golden anniversary convention Friday and Saturday in St. Louis.

He succeeds George Huss of St. Louis.

He has served as junior vice commander and senior vice commander.

Mr. and Mrs. Slinkard attended the meeting.

Boykin Faces Assault Charge

Clarence Boykin, 200 Fair St., has been charged with felonious assault in connection with the shooting of Robert Bonner, Sikeston, assistant prosecuting attorney Tom Gilmore said today.

Bonner has been in the Missouri Delta Community hospital since May 3, when he was shot in the abdomen. He is reported in satisfactory condition.

Police reported that the shooting occurred around 10:54 p.m. May 3, in an alley behind Jimmerson's Blue Room. The shooting followed an argument over a dice game.

Boykin is in custody of police, where he is serving two jail sentences for city charges of discharging firearms and displaying a dangerous weapon. He will be transferred to Scott county authorities.

Shotgun Stolen

A Browning 12 gauge automatic shotgun was reported stolen Saturday night from the home of Henry Barks, Salcedo.

Barks told Scott county deputy Eddie Michael his house had been ransacked when he returned at 10:25 p.m. Saturday. Only the shotgun was reported missing, Michael said. Entry apparently was gained by using a key to unlock the door, Michael reported.

Buses Replace Four Trains

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gulf Transport Co. began operating buses between St. Louis and Carbondale, Ill., today to replace four passenger trains discontinued as of today by the Illinois Central Railroad.

Only one outbound and one inbound I-C train will continue to operate between the two cities.

Rockefeller Sizes up Reagan

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says a N.C. Rockefeller-Reagan ticket would have "great strength"—but that he feels right now California Gov. Ronald Reagan is after the top spot.

Rockefeller, announced Republican presidential candidate, said Sunday he thinks Reagan's course will be influenced by the vote the California draws in the May 28 Oregon and June 4 California primaries.

Rockefeller planned to meet today with Southern GOP leaders in New Orleans where Reagan spoke Sunday. The two governors scheduled visits to Florida later in the day with Reagan making stops at Washington, D.C., and Charlotte, N.C.

The New Yorker's comments on Reagan were made on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

"He's getting increasingly active—a lot of TV work around the country," Rockefeller said, "and I think that he is pretty well set for the top spot."

Asked if he'd be happy with a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket, the New York governor replied he'd be happy to get the GOP nomination "and after that I'm open minded."

Reagan, a California favorite-son candidate who has said he would accept the GOP nomination but is not soliciting it, is entered in both the Oregon and California primaries.

He called at a Republican rally in New Orleans Sunday for the "great silent majority" of college teachers and students to stem the tide of campus demonstrations and stand up "for the true meaning of academic freedom."

"If students, urged on and supported by a radical minority of faculty members can take over and threaten our higher education system," Reagan said, "what makes us think that tomorrow it won't be taking over society itself?"

The poll found Nixon listed "highly favorable" by 28 per cent of the people surveyed.

Accidents Send Seven to Hospital

Seven were admitted to the emergency room of the Missouri Delta Community hospital during the weekend:

Treated Saturday were Michael Wingfield, Bell City, fell hitting mouth on handle of stroller; Sherry Ann Boyd, Sikeston, hit by car; Gordon Hill, Sikeston, dog bite, and supported by a radical minority of faculty members can take over and threaten our higher education system," Reagan said, "what makes us think that tomorrow it won't be taking over society itself?"

Admitted Sunday were Robert E. Murrell, Sikeston, fell on concrete at home; Michael Warfield, Sikeston, fell off bicycle and Ophelia Dodge, Charleston, fell down stairs at home.

Speed Blamed for Traffic Accidents

A rash of speeding in one-car accidents by young drivers who lost control of their vehicles accounted for most of highway injuries over the weekend, the state highway patrol reported.

Sunday at 9:40 p.m. at the south city limits of Scott City on highway 61, Larry Enderle, 20, Kelso, driver of a 1959 Plymouth, was cut on the head, neck and chest.

He ran off the road and struck a bridge abutment. He was taken to Southeast Missouri hospital in Cape Girardeau.

John Adams, 21, St. Louis, suffered a back injury, Sunday at 4 p.m. on highway D, four miles west of Lilbourn.

He was driving a 1962 Pontiac, when he lost control, ran off the road and turned over.

Donald Heffley, 20, Parma, suffered a cut on his right arm, Sunday at 3:34 a.m., on highway 25, two miles south of Bernie.

He was driving a 1955 Studebaker, when his car left the road and overturned.

He was taken to the Dunklin County Memorial hospital in Kennett.

Two were injured Sunday at 1 a.m. on route P and highway 25.

Willard Rehkopf, 17, Advance, was driving a 1956 Chevrolet, when the car skidded off the road and struck a utility pole.

The driver received a cut chin, and a passenger, Larry Painton, 19, Advance, a cut, fractured leg and foot, and chest injury.

Both were taken to Southeast Missouri hospital.

Lennie Green, 16, Malden, lost control of his 1967 Chevrolet, pm route J, two miles west of Malden, Sunday at 5:40 p.m.

The car left the road, turned over and struck a utility pole.

Injured and taken to a Poplar Bluff hospital was a passenger, Cheryl Keller, 15, route two, Malden, who received a knee injury.

French Strikes Snowball

PARIS (AP) — Strikes snowballed rapidly across France in a wave of social ferment today and the nation approached total paralysis. Paris was at a virtual standstill with not a bus, subway or train moving. Housewives rushed to stock up on food.

Joining the walkouts amid calls for the resignation of President Charles de Gaulle were workers in coal mines, automobile factories, ports and airports. Even war widows and war veterans joined the movement with demands for higher pensions.

De Gaulle conferred with top ministers Sunday but took no immediate action.

The number of workers off their jobs ballooned into the millions. Hundreds of business concerns were closed down either by worker walkouts or because of the paralysis of transport and other services.

Garbage piled in the streets of Paris. There have been no collections since Saturday because of a strike of garbage men and streetcleaners.

Thousands of workers occupied the big Peugeot auto factory at Sochaux in eastern France near the Swiss border. All of the government-owned Renault auto plants have been occupied since Friday.

The 22,000 workers of the Michelin tire factory at Clermont Ferrand in central France went on strike and occupied the premises.

Striking Marseille dockworkers ran red flags to the tops of masts of all French ships. The 3,000 dockers of neighboring Ciotat were also on strike.

About two-thirds of the 65,000 workers at various Citroen auto plants around the country were unable to work.

In Paris, lines formed in front of some banks even before opening time. Bank employees got strike orders Saturday. The Bank of France delayed the opening of the foreign exchange market.

Electricity workers in Paris continued to provide power although they have occupied the factories since Saturday night.

Food supplies reached Les Halles, Paris' big central market, while truck drivers remained at their jobs.

Most miners were out. The 45,000 coal miners of the North Basin joined the strike of their comrades in Lorraine.

New Miss USA From Big Family

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The new Miss USA says she would not be Miss USA today if she were an only child. But as one of nine she entered her first beauty contest to scratch up a little extra money for her college education.

"All the kids have some kind of a job," said Dorothy "Didi" Ansett of Kirkland, Wash. "So I thought I would enter a beauty contest and one led to another."

"But I still can't believe it. I wish I could cry or something, but I don't often cry," said the brown-eyed brunette who was crowned Saturday night as Miss USA 1968.

Gena Nunnelee

Morehouse Soldier Honored

SAIGON (AP) — Standing on ground over which they had battled only eight days ago, troops of the U.S. Army 3rd Brigade 9th Infantry Division, were honored today for their defense of Saigon's southern edge.

"The 3rd Brigade," said the Division Commander, Maj. Gen. Julian J. Ewell of Stillwater, Okla., "in five full days of intense combat, completely destroyed or decimated every Viet Cong and North Vietnamese army unit that attacked the southern outskirts of Saigon."

"In 97 continuous hours of bitter house-to-house fighting and grueling bunker-to-bunker combat, they completely cleared the approaches to the 'Y' bridge to Saigon. We stand today on the very ground over which they fought and bled."

Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer Jr., deputy commander of the U.S. Army in Vietnam, said after the hour-long ceremony that he believed the efforts of the brigade in the "Y" bridge area had "destroyed the enemy's ability to make a coordinated attack in the near future."

Lt. Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, commander of South Vietnam's 3rd Corps Area of operations, presented government awards to 30 American officers and men.

Palmer presented 24 silver stars to 3rd Brigade troopers who stood in a muddy field before a Buddhist temple which had served as a battalion command post during the battle. He also presented six silver stars posthumously and six more to men who were wounded and not present at the ceremonies.

Palmer awarded three distinguished flying crosses to army helicopter crewmen and 31 bronze stars to division soldiers. Maj. Gen. Robert F. Worley, vice

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!
Many people ignore the library, which offers an appreciated service only for those who use its services. That is not to say other people don't read.
Many of them do. Magazines, newspapers, books, both paper-back and hard cover, sell briskly. Not only that but the mails are full of reading material sent to non-subscribers -- call it junk or whatever you will.
A recent account of how a poor couple managed to give all of their children a college education provided stirring reading recently in the Memphis Commercial-Appeal.
The parents never gave their children a ball or other toy. It was always a book.
The small town in which the children were reared didn't have a library. So the poor parents bought the children books.
All of them acquired a college education. All of them made the most of their opportunity and hold responsible leadership positions today.
But what these children missed by growing up in a town without a library or library service.
Their parents bought them books but how many more books and how much more knowledge would have been available to them if they had been exposed to broader horizons of books.
It is true that most Americans do not appreciate or use services which are readily available to them not even those which they readily support by taxation.
But gold mines of knowledge are there for those who wish to dig for information and the important thing is to provide the opportunity for those who ambitiously seek it.

Congress is the best proof that numerical age isn't important. Business and industry are reluctant to accept it.
There are many old men in Congress.
Some of them have tired blood and probably no tonic is capable of bringing about a restoration of vigor. Others are old but mentally and physically agile.
One of the enduring and alert ones is Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona, who has announced his retirement after 56 years service to his state and country. Hayden has performed nobly and honorably throughout his long career. He is chairman of the powerful Senate appropriations committee.
The nation as well as Arizona will feel a sense of loss in his absence.
Senator Hayden has demonstrated in a materialistic age with a growing tendency away from hero building that there is a place in public office for qualified men, who recognize that there are important tasks to perform and are willing to do them.
He has set a fine example of public service as a comparatively quiet and inconspicuous servant of the people.
Congress puts a premium on long service through its committee system. The system has its flaws but Senator Hayden's long and useful career demonstrates that it isn't all bad.
The business world, which puts a premium on youth, could profit from the example.
As a rule retirement at a specific age may be desirable but there are exceptions to the rule.
Some men are old at 30.
Senator Hayden has a great deal of bounce at 90 although he is unquestionably wise in quitting while he is ahead. He has at any rate earned his retirement.

The chorus usually sounds better than the soloist. If they won't let you sing a solo, don't worry too much about it. The chorus is always essential.

Mr. George Champion, chairman of the board of the Chase Manhattan Park, has noted, "I can think of nothing that would put the brakes on big government faster than for business to identify critical problems and take the initiative in dealing with them before Washington felt the need to act."

Do the average man a favor and he will remember it for years and look for an opportunity to return it. This may be disputed, but it is nearly always true. It is easier to do a favor than an injury. If you hurt a man he will at once take steps to get even, and you may become involved in a first class row.

WHAT'S-HIS-NAME
A report from Albuquerque, N. M., where Ronald Reagan of California made a major speech before 3,000 people, didn't make many newspapers, but John McMillion, executive editor of the Albuquerque Journal, warns us not to underestimate this fellow.
"He can communicate. Boy, how he can communicate!" reports Editor McMillion.
"For my money," he went on, "Reagan hit a nerve when he started talking about how the world stood idly by and let a bunch of North Korean bandits kidnap a U. S. Navy ship and 83 crew members."
Two Reagan "pledges" the people liked particularly:
"We'll stop trying to buy the world's affection and start earning its respect."
"It is time to protect the people from the law-breakers, and not the other way around."
So keep your eye on What's-His-Name. If Dick Nixon, with his new image, fumbles the stumbles over political land mines along the campaign trail, the man from Sacramento will be standing by to fill the gap.

The average man does so many foolish things every year that by the time he is 50 he staggers under a terrible burden of humiliation.

TOMORROW
MAY 21--TUESDAY
AGRICULTURAL
EXHIBITION, May 21 - June 21, Madrid, Spain.

A couple were invited to a real swanky masked Halloween Party, so the wife got costumes for both her and her husband. On the night of the party, she developed a terrible headache and told her husband to go without her. He protested, but she said all she was going to do was take a couple of aspirins and go to bed, and there was no need of his good time being spoiled by not attending. So he got into his costume and off he went.
The wife, after sleeping soundly for about an hour, awoke without a sign of pain and as it was just a little after nine, she decided to go to the party. Inasmuch as her husband didn't know what kind of costume she was wearing, she thought it would be a good thing to just slip into the party and observe how he acted when she wasn't around.
This she did -- and as soon as she joined the party, the first one she spied was her husband, cavorting around on the dance floor dancing with first one slick chick and then another, copping a little feel here and there. So the wife sidled up to him, and being a rather seductive babe herself, he left his other partner standing high and dry and devoted his attention to the new stuff that had just arrived. She let him go as far as he wished (naturally) and finally he whispered a little proposition in her ear. This she agreed to, and they went out to one of the cars parked nearby -- etc. -- etc.
Just before the unmasking at midnight, she slipped away, went home and got into bed, wondering what kind of explanation her husband would make as to his behavior. He arrived home about 1:30 a.m. and came right into the bedroom to see how she was. She was sitting up in bed reading, and asked him "What kind of time did you have?" He said, "Oh, the same old thing. You know I never have a good time when you aren't there." Then she said, "Did you dance much?" He said, "Well, I'll tell you. I never danced a dance. When I got there, Peter Jones, Bill Brown, and some of the other guys were den and played poker. But I'll tell you one thing, that fellow I loaned my costume to, sure had a helluva good time."
A man and his wife entered a dentist's office. "I want a tooth pulled," the wife told the doctor. "And don't bother with gas or novocaine. We're in a hurry."
"Well, you certainly are brave," the dentist exclaimed. "Show me your tooth."
"Henry," she said, turning to her husband, "open your mouth."

Wanting to outdo the lavish presents of her brothers, he gave her mother on her birthday a $50,000 mynah bird with 4,000-word vocabulary in several languages.

"Delicious," was the mother's reply.

HELLO!
In New York City last week the Welfare Commissioner revealed that a total of 483,573 persons received public aid, during the month of June. That almost half-a-million recipients of welfare assistance payments is the total for New York City alone -- not the state.
"Don't get the idea that these people don't work for the welfare payments," cautioned a newspaperman friend. "Every day, they dutifully march down the pooling place and vote for the candidate who promises to continue and increase the payments. And pre-Columbian vestiges in the ground rules: it had to be plugged in to a 'live' electric outlet in order to keep its muscle power in working order. The outlet in our bathroom is on the same switch as that room's electric light. To maintain the condition, the bathroom light would have to remain on 24 hours a day. Not only would that be a little too much brightness in our lives, but while the toothbrush was charging, the electric company would be charging too."
The dental delight had to be plugged in somewhere -- but where? The kitchen, too far afield to make it a practical base, was vetoed. The bedrooms were similarly bypassed. Obviously the living room, with its multitude of live outlets and its proximity to the scene of dental action, was the only possible answer.
So there it sits, trailing its electric cord, on a table behind a flower pot trailing ivy.
If we know in advance that company's coming, we remove the appliance and plug it in somewhere else where it is at least invisibly though temporarily inaccessible.
But the unexpected visitor, coming upon this unusual bit of decor spotlighted under the lamp, never knows whether to comment on our originality or to avert his eyes and pretend it isn't there.

New World which popular belief attributes to the Norsemen, particularly the Minnesota runestone and a mysterious tower at Newport, R. I.
The latter, according to some writers, may have been built by the Celts. Books have even been written about possible Roman and Carthaginian expeditions to America.
So far, orthodox historians have rejected evidence offered, mostly by amateurs, of contacts between the old world and the new before Columbus. Until the discovery of the map, even the Norse story of "Vinland" was held in doubt.
An intellectual barrier may now have been breached. It could lead to a fresh look at some old evidence and a search for some new and, eventually, a fascinating revision of our history books.

TRENDS:
We're seeing more and more colored shirts with white collars and cuffs. According to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, plain colored bodies seem to be favorites, with subtle and bolder stripes next. And maize is growing into a very popular shirt color. Get ready for the bold print shirt -- all the way from the most colorful Hawaiian-type floral prints to large polka dots and paisleys.

DON'T BELITTLE PROFIT INCENTIVE
Some new figures have come to light about wildcat drilling for oil in the United States that make significant reading. It is common knowledge that 90 per cent of wildcat wells drilled in areas where no oil or gas has previously been found result in dry holes. But, this is only part of the story. When a new oil field is discovered, there is no guarantee of financial success.
According to Oil Facts, "Every year, hundreds of newly discovered fields turn out to be too small or too unproductive to be profitable." In 1966, oilmen drilled 6,158 new-field wildcat wells in the United States. These thousands of wells actually resulted in 635 newly discovered fields of gas and oil. But, of the 635, it is estimated that only 171 will prove to be of sufficient size to return a profit on the investment. Thus, only 2.8 per cent of the new-field wildcat wells drilled in 1966 will become commercially successful.
It takes courage and money in nearly incalculable amounts to maintain the river of oil that sustains our civilization. And what many of us do not seem to realize is that incentive, stemming from that widely belittled element "profit," is all that keeps oil rivers from drying up.

CHICKENS TOSS
IN THE TOWEL
The doves and the hawks have now been joined by the chickens.
Chickens are these characters who are loudly moaning, "The Communists are winning. We've had it!"
There's a big difference between chickens and doves and between chickens and hawks. Doves believe that the Vietnam war is pointless and that the United States has no business in it. They believed this even when things were going better for us. Hawks have believed all along that the United States should quit playing for a tie and go for broke.
But chickens didn't have too much to say one way or the other until things suddenly got rougher for us recently. Then they started screaming "uncle," and they weren't cheering for Uncle Sam. They were, and are, writing him off as a loser.
You can't blame the Commies much if they figure that with enemies like this, who needs friends?

Fiscal responsibility means having enough money left to buy a loaf of bread after you've paid for the case of beer.

The use of petroleum asphalt and asphaltic products has increased from about 7 1/2 million tons in 1946 to well over 26 million tons in 1966.

Last year 82 per cent of all commuters in the United States traveled to and from their jobs by private automobile.

Inside Labor
By Victor Riesel
REUTHER GAMBLES
Woos Teamsters, Miners and Black Workers In Maneuver to Launch New Labor Movement.
Washington D.C. -- Early last week, Walter Reuther, with $82 million in his union's kitty, went shopping for allies.
He dropped in on the reclusive, 88-year-old ex-King Coal, John L. Lewis, spiritual head of the miners. Later the redhead drove over to the Teamsters' glistening marble hall to lunch with Frank Fitzsimmons, regent of Jimmy Hoffa's regime.
This was one of Washington's most easily obtained secrets. The two Detroiters had a fine time. Reuther inquired about Jimmy's health, attacked the "fat bottoms" over at the AFL-CIO (though the Teamsters headquarters hardly is the place for such eloquence) and, according to one high Teamsters official, raised some money for the poor people's march.
Phase one ended when Meany threw the behemoth Auto Union out of the massive federation.
Soon there will be phase three. When Reuther returns from Europe he will begin building his own labor federation for the "now generation."
That's what he's sought all along -- his own labor movement. It is in the nature of this restless man. He talks in visions. He sees massed millions cheering below his microphone.
No problem shall be without a solution, and over at the AFL-CIO headquarters the other day they were saying that for every solution Reuther has a problem.
He is a lonely man with no intimates. There is only the "movement."
But in six years the 60-year-old Reuther will face life without such a gargantuan cheering, stomping, whistling companion. The United Auto Workers Union has a rigid compulsory retirement rule.
Thus he will be elected to his last two-year term as president of the 1.6 million-member union in 1972, a few months before he turns 65.
He must step down at the 1974 convention. His successor, probably will be the energetic Doug Fraser of the union's Chrysler division.
No one -- but no one -- sees "Walter" taking a golden gavel as a memento, and becoming a retiree at his Fort Myers, Fla., home.
Not at 66 years of age. So the best reading on Reuther now is in his passion for a labor federation or "congress" will be made up of unions which will defect with him from the recently lobbied by the House Commerce Committee in white-collar people, space-age technicians, nurses, government pipeline safety bill. They worked for a vote, and young people succeeded in making the bill drawn by his oratory, and the much weaker than the senate version.
These, all of these, he hopes

Washington - Merry - Go - Round
By Drew Pearson
THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND
DREW PEARSON SAYS:
Rev. Abernathy doesn't roar before congress; he is meek and mild in closed-door session; Gov. Reagan's utility commissioners vote to suppress pipeline facts
WASHINGTON -- Rev. Ralph Abernathy, leader of the poor people's march, has left a sour impression on television, but he made the opposite impression on a group of senators and representatives with whom he met behind closed doors. He was reasonable and in no way demanding.
Sen. Ed Brooke, R-Mass., first Negro to serve in the senate in 100 years, inquired if he had said, as quoted, that he planned to turn Washington "upside down."
"I did not say we would turn Washington upside down," Abernathy replied. "I said we would turn the system upside down. By system I meant the poverty and second-class station that the poor people in the ghetto are forced to endure."
"You must not blame me for speaking out about these things. It is incumbent on me as the leader of this march to do. If I didn't, I would not be a leader very long. So I have to be aggressive at times, even though white people generally and some of you at this meeting may not agree with me. I hope you understand this."
Abernathy wasn't subjected to any direct criticism or needling, though excitable Rep. Clarence Long, D-MD., did speak out at one time.
"I have voted for every civil rights measure enacted by congress," he said, "but if I voted for all you are now asking for, I'd be defeated. Please be specific and state priorities in this proposed $30 billion program of aid you want. There aren't enough votes in congress to give it all to you."
"I'll be happy to," replied King.
"He got out and walked the streets of Harlem talking to people and trying to prevent an uprising. There was a comparatively little damage given us adequate medical care, because the Mayor showed which is greatly needed by black people that he cared. I hope people. We are not asking for welfare, except of any emergency nature, but we would like to have a guaranteed annual wage."

"How soon do you want all this?" asked Long. "Surely, you do not expect this session of congress to do all of it."
"No, we don't expect this session or the next one to meet all of our needs," said Abernathy. "But we certainly expect this session to show some progress in dealing with these imperative problems."
--RATS AND LIGHTS--
He added that he personally knew of many Negroes in Ghetos who left their lights on all night "so the rats wouldn't eat them up."
When Abernathy was asked about a threat, attributed to the Brother of the late Martin Luther King, that the marchers might "block bridges" leading to Washington, Rev. Andrew Young replied:
"I'm not sure Dr. King's brother was quoted correctly, but if he was, the answer is that many Negroes feel that bridges are among the things that separate them from the white community."
In Washington, for example, when white people go home at night many of them move across bridges to their homes in the Virginia and Maryland suburbs. They leave the city and its problems behind.
"I personally do not favor blocking a bridge, which is civil disobedience, except as a last resort if everything else fails. If the people with us feel that the march has been hopeless, without results, they might try to block a bridge for one night only. But, again,
During the meeting Abernathy paid a tribute to Mayor John Lindsay of New York for preventing wholesale rioting in New York following the murder of Martin Luther King.
"He got out and walked the streets of Harlem talking to people and trying to prevent an uprising. There was a comparatively little damage given us adequate medical care, because the Mayor showed which is greatly needed by black people that he cared. I hope

Music for the dance will be by the Oliver Hill Orchestra of Metropolis until 1 a.m.

The Cotillion, arranged and presented by the Margaret Berling Bagby School of Dance, will be at 8:30; the crowning of the Queen at 9 a.m. Dance, will be at 8:30; the crowning of the Queen at 9 p.m.

This is the 15th annual Magnolia Ball sponsored by the Cairo Historical Association. The proceeds are for the maintenance of Magnolia Manor, 2700 Washington Ave., Cairo's Victorian era home in which ex-President U. S. Grant visited with his entourage returning from a world trip.

Children's Story Hour to Be Conducted

A children's story hour will be conducted at the Sikeston public library twice weekly next summer.

The story hour also will be a summer fixture of the Benton, Ilmo, Perryville, Altenburg and Jackson libraries, affiliated with the Riverside Regional Library.

Thursday at 8 p.m. the board of the Riverside regional library will meet in the new library building at Benton.

The library was moved from the Frohse building and into the new building April 29-30 and has been open to the public three weeks. It is a brick building centrally heated and cooled.

The Board will review plans for a summer reading and children's program. Additional personnel will be employed to conduct the program and show children movies at each session.

The Lutheran Laymen's League of the Perry county circuit has given the regional libraries four film strips with sound on sex education from a Christian viewpoint. They are a part of the Concordia sex education series.

The league has given the libraries a total of 32 film strips for use by any church group or organization.

WSCS Plans Picnic

Circles of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church met Thursday, with the program "Being with People Who Hurt" in the continued study on "Search for Identity". The circles also made plans for the picnic to be held in Clayton Park June 6 for the general meeting of the WSCS. Each circle planned menus and assigned members to bring various covered dishes.

Circle one, Mrs. Harold Kiehne, chairman, met at Mrs. Kiehne's home at 9:30 a.m. Twelve members were present and Mrs. E. F. Weidemann was a guest. Mrs. Helen Loud Jones presented the program and worship. She was assisted with the program by Mrs. Weidemann, Mrs. W. S. Vandivort, Mrs. William Bess, and Mrs. Vincent Wissman.

Circle two, Mrs. W. C. Reid, chairman, met at 11 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Louie Largent who also presided. A covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by 11 members and five guests. Mrs. Joseph Wagner and Mrs. E. F. Weidemann, Mrs. M. E. Montgomery presented the program and worship. The meeting closed with a poem read by Mrs. Gid Daniels.

Circle three, Mrs. W. S. Webster, chairman, met at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. William Proffer with Mrs. T. E. Boswell presiding. Thirteen members were present and Mrs. Wagner was a guest. The program was given by Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Allen Crites with Mrs. W. L. Hutters giving the worship.

Circle four, Mrs. Maurice Stauffer, chairman, met at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robley Lennox for a covered dish luncheon. Fifteen members were present and it was reported that four members had perfect attendance for the year. Mrs. E. R. Putman presented the worship service.

Circle five, Mrs. Ruth Finley, chairman, met at noon at the home of Mrs. Finley for a covered dish luncheon. Nine members and one guest, Mrs. Virginia Laub, sister of Mrs. Finley, were present. Mrs. Finley also presented the program, being assisted by Mrs. C. J. Stevens, Mrs. J. M. Pittman, Mrs. Byron Bowman, and Mrs. A. F. Lindsay. Mrs. Ed Swan gave the worship.

Circle six, Mrs. Harold Hill, chairman, met at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Dess Bloomfield with eleven members present. Mrs. Ethel Armstrong gave the worship and Mrs. Raymond Miller presented the program. It was decided to change the meeting time to 2 p.m. starting with the June meeting.

Circle seven, Mrs. Max Chandler, chairman, met at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Allen Hubbard with 11 members present. Mrs. Clifford Gipson was a guest and assisted in presenting the program with Mrs. Garwood Sharp. Mrs. Paul Jobe presented the worship.

Circle eight, Mrs. Ed Aldrich, chairman, met at 8 p.m. Wednesday with Mrs. David Morris, hostess, and Mrs. Tom Gilmore, co-hostess. Mrs. Morris also presented the program which was a continued study on art and music. Eight members were present and Mrs. Wagner was a guest. Mrs. Wagner installed officers for the coming year and presented the pledge service. Mrs. Richard Giles presented the worship. There will be no meetings held in June, July, and August.

Circle nine, Mrs. A. P.

Circuit Court

BENTON: These cases were heard here recently:

North Ridge Co. vs. Roosevelt Johnson, ACCOUNT. Plaintiff's attorneys in Court. Defendant present, with his attorney's, also.

Parties announce ready for trial, so a jury of 12 men is called, qualified and the case submitted to them.

The plaintiff's evidence is presented, and at it's close, plaintiff's attorneys file a Motion for a Directed verdict which Judge Craig sustains.

Defendant's attorney then files a Motion for a Directed verdict just opposite to plaintiff's, which the Judge overrules.

The defendant's attorney's then presented his side of the case. At it's conclusion, the Judge gave instructions to the jury, who, at 5:00 p.m. retired to consider its verdict.

At 5:12 p.m., the same day, the jury returned to the Courtroom and announced it had reached a verdict. "We, the jury, find the issues in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, and assess plaintiff's damages at $330.00."

Jury is discharged and verdict ordered filed.

Judgment in accordance with verdict.

COLD - SINUS Miseries?

Is your head pounding-nose running-are your eyes watering and are you sneezing-sneezing-sneezing? Have you blown your nose until it is raw? We're sorry you're suffering so because obviously you're not aware of our product SYNA-CLEAR and this is our fault. SYNA-CLEAR is the original timed release tablet that gives up to eight hours of real relief from head cold symptoms and clogged up sinuses.

We do not have millions to spend on T.V. to tell you about SYNA-CLEAR, just this small ad. We do not gimmick our advertising and product by offering twelve hours of medication. What is medication without relief? SYNA-CLEAR is what we offer and it gives you eight hours of relief per tablet or your money back in full.

We could go into detail how our product works and about the fine formula, but we would rather you ask the experts about SYNA-CLEAR. The druggist at the store listed below or your family doctor can tell you about the merits of our fine formula. SYNA-CLEAR costs more ($1.50 and $3.00 sizes) because it does more. You're buying relief and not gimmicks. Try SYNA-CLEAR as soon as possible - you know - all your head cold symptoms and clogged up sinuses are all you can lose.

This little ad has an awful big job to do - to get you to try SYNA-CLEAR, so as a bonus, we extend an

Introductory Offer Worth $1.50

Cut out this ad - write your name on it and take it to your favorite drug store. Purchase one box of SYNA-CLEAR 12's and receive one more absolutely FREE.

If you have time to tell us about the results SYNA-CLEAR gave you, we would be pleased to hear from you.

Blodgett News

Sgt. Andy Dirnberger, who has been stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia, returned home Sunday for a one-week visit with his wife, the former Miss Janet Bollinger, and their daughter, Susan Renae.

Mrs. Roy Bollinger, Peggy and Michael, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Minner and children, Denny, Ronald, Jeff, and Susan of Paducah, Kentucky, Thursday.

The Blodgett W.M.U. met in the home of Mrs. Edmondson, Wednesday, May 8. There were eight members present and one visitor, Mrs. Turner from Morley. A very interesting program on "Environment for Missions" was presented. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Mrs. Ella Mae Schlett, of Detroit Michigan, returned to her home Friday after a three-week visit with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Rodgers, of Blodgett.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Evans and sons, Greg and Glenn, of Blodgett, visited in Memphis over the weekend with Mrs. Evans' sisters, Miss Lula Morgan, and Mrs. Marilyn Abbott and her husband, Roy, and their children, Jr. and Lillian.

Miss Debbie Miller, Sikeston, was a guest in the home of Miss Judi Evans, Thursday night.

1,000 Acres of

Wheat Insured

Thirteen farmers in Scott County don't have to depend upon the weather this year to insure they will have a wheat crop.

Otto Kuntze, fieldman for the federal crop insurance corporation from the district office at 603 Powell St., New Madrid, says nearly 1,000 acres in the county already are under all-risk protection for 1968 and 1969 as farmers are taking no chances on the weather.

Scott County farmers taking advantage of the all-risk features of federal crop insurance against damage by any natural cause. For the 1968 crop, this added up to more than $36,000 in invested farm dollar protection in the county.

Kuntze is in the county explaining the government-sponsored insurance program and taking applications for protection on the 1969 wheat crop.

Missouri farmers took advantage of the program this year by protecting more than $1.3 million in 1968 wheat crop dollar investments.

The word turnpike is derived from the hinged poles or pikes used to halt travelers until a toll was paid. The World Almanac says. After payment, the pike was turned to allow the traveler to pass. From circa 1800 to 1840, a great era in U.S. turnpike construction, tollgates were six to 10 miles apart and tolls were from 10 to 25 cents a vehicle.

CAMERA ANGLES

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Photography is an interest, a hobby or a business in which progress and improvement are markedly advanced by experience. Like other skills, the more you practice, the better you get.

But unlike many other activities, you can practice photography and acquire proficiency in handling a camera without taking pictures. When you wish to short-circuit the amount of time needed to gain experience, you can resort to camera "homework," a careful study of the mechanics of handling your photo equipment... without film in the camera.

You start by gathering the various instruction booklets which came with the camera, strobe or flash unit, etc., along with the equipment itself. A second, later look at instructions can be more illuminating than it was originally; the equipment and its operation are usually easier to understand.

Next comes a dry run in equipment handling. Many camera fans are awkward when they load film. There's a knack to doing it smoothly and correctly, so sacrifice a roll of film in order to practice doing it over and over again. Eventually you'll get the feel of fumble-free loading so that you can think of what you're about to shoot instead of worrying about whether the film is in right.

With film in the camera, some time should be devoted to establishing a personal technique for holding it firmly but comfortably while squeezing the shutter release or when shifting from a horizontal to a vertical view or back again. You should avoid an insecure grip which invites camera movement by jabbing the release; search for and adopt a stance suited to your own hands and muscle tension.

Having established a good camera grip, the next step is to practice your own camera setting combinations for future close-up, full-figure and group pictures. Instead of shifting focus, you can step forward or backward a foot or two to change to a faster or slower speed or to a larger or smaller aperture, or you should be able to do so unhesitatingly and with certainty.

Another camera skill which becomes easier with practice is the ability to focus quickly and accurately. Shift your attention from a distance to a close-up object and see how fast you can pinpoint your target. You can make a game out of "guesstimating" distances and checking your guesses with the actual footage shown on the camera's distance scale. On many picture-shooting occasions, it may be easier to select a point at which a person will appear to enhance the composition; set the scale for that distance and shoot when the conditions are right.

Experienced photographers often set their cameras for a "six-foot," and "eight-foot" or a "12-foot" shot, knowing the precise combinations for perfect exposures for each distance, especially with flash pictures. With a little experimentation, you can make

"CROW'S LINE"...by Don Chisholm of Cleveland is an example of instant reaction to a picture-taking situation and competent handling of the camera's controls. Amateur photographers can acquire the necessary skill in the mechanics of camera adjustments by careful study of instruction booklets and by "dry run" practice.

Experienced photographers often set their cameras for a "six-foot," and "eight-foot" or a "12-foot" shot, knowing the precise combinations for perfect exposures for each distance, especially with flash pictures. With a little experimentation, you can make

Having established a good camera grip, the next step is to practice your own camera setting combinations for future close-up, full-figure and group pictures. Instead of shifting focus, you can step forward or backward a foot or two to change to a faster or slower speed or to a larger or smaller aperture, or you should be able to do so unhesitatingly and with certainty.

Another camera skill which becomes easier with practice is the ability to focus quickly and accurately. Shift your attention from a distance to a close-up object and see how fast you can pinpoint your target. You can make a game out of "guesstimating" distances and checking your guesses with the actual footage shown on the camera's distance scale. On many picture-shooting occasions, it may be easier to select a point at which a person will appear to enhance the composition; set the scale for that distance and shoot when the conditions are right.

High Cost of Retirement

AFTER 20 years of service, and regardless of age, policemen, firemen and sanitation workers in New York City may retire on a pension equal to half of their final annual pay. A worker in any of these three services who began at age twenty might, therefore, retire at age forty and for the rest of his life receive one-half of his final pay. If he lives on to the age of eighty, he is, therefore, drawing half pay for forty years. Half pay for forty years will total considerably more than his salary during his twenty working years, because it is half of his final pay, which is much more than his starting pay. His total cost to the taxpayers of New York City is therefore more than double the amount he received during his working years.

Something may be said for the fact that the work of a fireman and a policeman is somewhat hazardous. But there is little hazard, it would seem, in working in the sanitation department. Moreover, while the work of a policeman and a fireman may be arduous, few will agree that a man at age forty or forty-five is not capable of performing the duties of these occupations.

The transport workers of New York have just obtained a 5% wage increase this year, to be followed by 6% in 1969. These are not only double the normal guidelines of 2% to 3%, but are augmented by many fringe benefits, particularly the right to retire at age fifty, if one has served twenty years, on a pension amounting to one-half of one's final pay.

As there is no possibility of offsetting increased costs by increasing productivity, this settlement, as in the case of policemen, firemen and sanitary workers, is very inflationary. A man making change in a subway booth cannot serve more customers even though he is being paid much more money. A motorman cannot drive more trains more miles even though his wages are increased.

It just is not possible for American workers to be paid twice as much as they are now receiving. The arrangements that have been made for paying policemen, firemen, sanitation workers and now transit workers, if they become general for other workers, will force this country into a balloon ascension of rapidly rising inflation. It will bring the destruction of accumulated savings, further drastic loss in the purchasing power of the dollar, and the inevitable moment of truth when we must acknowledge the bitter facts and make a new start. All this need not be, if we would be willing to live on what we earn, and not continually seek by fair and foul means some of the wealth of others. In the long run there is no such thing as consuming more than we produce. If we get more, such as the groups just mentioned, it means that others must live on less, or that we inflate out through the roof and then, with great hardship and suffering, start again to rebuild the wealth of America.

Realtor Week Gets Underway

"Home is Where Security Starts, Don't Wait in '68" is the theme of the 1968 Realtor Week celebration by the 20 members of the Sikeston Board of Realtors, Charles M. Mitchell, president, announced today.

Throughout the week, Mitchell continued, community-wide observances are scheduled as Realtors in the area join with more than 85,000 colleagues throughout the nation in directing attention to their calling and the nature of the services they render.

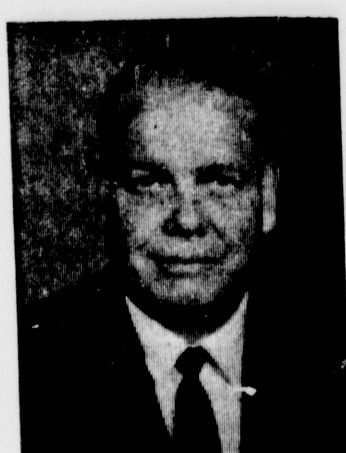

Realtor Week activities this year will be closely tied in with the broad "Make America Better" program of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, which was launched in February to help solve the major problems of our cities and towns.

"This seven-objective program was undertaken since Realtors and other experts agree that the betterment of housing for low-income families cannot be achieved unless other problems which are deeply involved in the social unrest in our cities can be concurrently solved," Mitchell pointed out.

"Highlighted under the Make America Better Program are such vital areas important to the achievement of stability and safety in our cities as reducing juvenile delinquency and crime; family education and training programs; rehabilitation and construction; education and training of children at earlier ages to provide employment capabilities; changes in restrictive practices which unduly increase construction costs; and cooperation and assistance with local organizations in the enactment of these and similar proposals."

In discussing the Realtor's code of ethics, Mitchell said that it was one of the first codes adopted in the history of American business. Under its 30 articles, which cover all aspects of real estate transactions, Realtors pledge their fair treatment and their total real estate knowledge to both parties of a contract -- the buyer and seller.

"Our board was formed in 1945, while the parent group, the National Association of Real Estate Boards, was founded in 1908," he concluded. "With offices in Washington, D. C., and Chicago, NAREB furnishes Realtors with the latest information on real estate developments, market conditions, economic trends, and new techniques."

Addition to Be Built on

Cape Building

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Southeast Missouri State College has issued a contract to Crites and Sailer Construction Co. to build a major addition to the Parker Women's physical education building. Construction is expected to start in a few days.

The contract figure is $789,684.50. Dr. Mark F. Scully, president of the college, said the college has applied for a federal grant to help finance the project.

In other college developments, officials are still waiting for a response to the college's application for a loan to begin a new dormitory project.

Dr. Scully said the application for a loan of $2,000,000 - the maximum allowed - is on file with the Housing and Urban Development agency at Fort Worth, Tex.

The president of the college pointed out that $2,000,000 will not begin to build a dormitory complex at present costs, but that such a loan - should it be approved - would be used to build the "first leg of something a lot bigger."

The area along Henderson west of the present campus has been mentioned as the most likely site of the next dormitory project.

7:13 p.m. Sunday that a break-in had occurred at Branum's Laundry, 809 West Malone.

Kelley told police he was working around his house when he saw a boy crawling through a back window of the laundry. He said he then went to the window and two other boys ran. The boy inside said he was just looking around, and he ran, Kelly said.

Police investigated, but nothing was reported taken. The window on the south side of the building had been broken, police reported.

Ten persons were arrested during the weekend: Stille Andrews, route four, Sikeston, was charged Sunday night with destruction of private property and leaving the scene in connection with knocking over two speaker poles at the Delta Drive in Theatre Sunday night. He was arrested in Sikeston and transferred to Scott county authorities.

Odie Ferrell and Gustava Ferrell, both of Cape Girardeau, were charged Saturday with shoplifting a carton of cigarettes at Barkett's Big Star. George Payne, Walnut Ridge, Ark., was charged by police Sunday with public intoxication. Willie McGee, 107 Frisco, and Gene Yokley, 122 West Kathleen, were each charged today with operating a motor vehicle without a city automobile license.

Phyllis Bridges, 915 North Ranney, was charged Saturday with supplying intoxicants to a minor. Oscar Northern, 17, Benton, and Lonnie Edward Cook, 17, 1617 Hart, were each charged Saturday with illegal possession of intoxicants.

Richard Lee Field, 309 Scott St., was charged Sunday with improper parking. He was charged Saturday with assault and battery.

Chase Helps Recover Stolen TV

A color television set valued at $359 taken in a break-in early today at Lewis Furniture Co., 650 West Malone, was recovered through the efforts of an interested person.

Chuck Linderman, manager of the 21 Club on West Malone, was returning to town at about 1:30 a.m. today when he saw a Negro man carrying a television set running west on Malone near the Cream Castle. Linderman chased the man and he ran behind a trailer of a tractor trailer parked at the C & H Service Station, 808 West Malone.

The Negro then ran across the tracks into Sunset Addition, Linderman told investigating officers Sgt. Lawrence Woodward and patrolman Jack C. Patterson.

Police then searched the area and found the front door glass of the furniture company broken. O. C. Lewis, store owner, and Taylor Noles, salesman, were called. They checked the store and told police the television set and about $20 in cash were missing. The television set was recovered. It had been placed under the trailer in the C & H Service Station.

In other activity, Walter J. Miles, Bloomfield, reported to police at 3:40 a.m. Sunday that his aluminum Wolverine boat valued at $200 and the trailer it was on were taken from his pickup truck between 11:30 p.m. Saturday and 1:30 a.m. Sunday while the vehicle was parked at the Wagon Wheel, 849 West Malone.

Grover Kelly, 819 rear West Malone, reported to police at See No. 1 Page 12

Morehouse Soldier Honored

SAIGON (AP) — Standing on ground over which they had battled only eight days ago, troops of the U.S. Army 3rd Brigade 9th Infantry Division, were honored today for their defense of Saigon's southern edge.

"The 3rd Brigade," said the Division Commander, Maj. Gen. Julian J. Ewell of Stillwater, Okla., "in five full days of intense combat, completely destroyed or decimated every Viet Cong and North Vietnamese army unit that attacked the southern outskirts of Saigon."

"In 97 continuous hours of bitter house-to-house fighting and grueling bunker-to-bunker combat, they completely cleared the approaches to the 'Y' bridge to Saigon. We stand today on the very ground over which they fought and bled."

Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer Jr., deputy commander of the U.S. Army in Vietnam, said after the hour-long ceremony that he believed the efforts of the brigade in the "Y" bridge area had "destroyed the enemy's ability to make a coordinated attack in the near future."

Lt. Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, commander of South Vietnam's 3rd Corps Area of operations, presented government awards to 30 American officers and men. Palmer presented 24 silver stars to 3rd Brigade troopers who stood in a muddy field before a Buddhist temple which had served as a battalion command post during the battle. He also presented six silver stars posthumously and six more to men who were wounded and not present at the ceremonies.

Palmer awarded three distinguished flying crosses to army helicopter crewmen and 31 bronze stars to division soldiers. Maj. Gen. Robert F. Worley, vice commander of the U.S. 7th Air Force, awarded three silver stars

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!
Many people ignore the library, which offers an appreciated service only for those who use its services. That is not to say other people don't read.

Many of them do. Magazines, newspapers, books, both paper-back and hard cover, sell briskly. Not only that but the mails are full of reading material sent to non-subscribers -- call it junk or whatever you will.

A recent account of how a poor couple managed to give all of their children a college education provided stirring reading recently in the Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

The parents never gave their children a ball or other toy. It was always a book.

The small town in which the children were reared didn't have a library. So the poor parents bought the children books.

All of them acquired a college education. All of them made the most of their opportunity and hold responsible leadership positions today.

But what these children missed by growing up in a town without a library or library service.

Their parents bought them books but how many more books and how much more knowledge would have been available to them if they had been exposed to broader horizons of books.

It is true that most Americans do not appreciate or use services which are readily available to them not even those which they readily support by taxation.

But gold mines of knowledge are there for those who wish to dig for information and the important thing is to provide the opportunity for those who ambitiously seek it.

Congress is the best proof that numerical age isn't important. Business and industry are reluctant to accept it.

There are many old men in Congress. Some of them have tired blood and probably no tonic is capable of bringing about a restoration of vigor. Others are old but mentally and physically agile.

One of the enduring and alert ones is Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona, who has announced his retirement after 56 years service to his state and country. Hayden has performed nobly and honorably throughout his long career. He is chairman of the powerful Senate appropriations committee.

The nation as well as Arizona will feel a sense of loss in his absence.

Senator Hayden has demonstrated in a materialistic age with a growing tendency away from hero building that there is a place in public office for qualified men, who recognize that there are important tasks to perform and are willing to do them.

He has set a fine example of public service as a comparatively quiet and inconspicuous servant of the people.

Congress puts a premium on long service through its committee system. The system has its flaws but Senator Hayden's long and useful career demonstrates that it isn't all bad.

The business world, which puts a premium on youth, could profit from the example.

As a rule retirement at a specific age may be desirable but there always are exceptions to the rule.

Some men are old at 30.

Senator Hayden has a great deal of bounce at 90 although he is unquestionably wise in quitting while he is ahead. He has at any rate earned his retirement.

The chorus usually sounds better than the soloist. If they won't let you sing a solo, don't worry too much about it. The chorus is always essential.

The Needle, In Atlanta, the State Labor Department ruled that the girls who quit their jobs in a Tifton, Ga. 5- & 10¢ store were entitled to unemployment compensation: "While an employer may prescribe reasonable rules and regulations, a threat to sew up his female employees' pockets is... good cause for them to quit."

Mr. George Champion, chairman of the board of the Chase Manhattan Park, has noted, "I can think of nothing that would put the brakes on big government faster than for business to identify critical problems and take the initiative in dealing with them before Washington felt the need to act."

Do the average man a favor and he will remember it for years and look for an opportunity to return it. This may be disputed, but it is nearly always true. It is easier to do a favor than an injury. If you hurt a man he will at once take steps to get even, and you may become involved in a first class row.

WHAT'S-HIS-NAME
A report from Albuquerque, N. M., where Ronald Reagan of California made a major speech before 3,000 people, didn't make many newspapers, but John McMillon, executive editor of the Albuquerque Journal, warns us not to underestimate this fellow.

"He can communicate. Boy, how he can communicate!" reports Editor McMillon.

"For my money," he went on, "Reagan hit a nerve when he started talking about how the world stood idly by and let a bunch of North Korean bandits kidnap a U. S. Navy ship and 83 crew members."

Two Reagan "pledges" the people liked particularly: "We'll stop trying to buy the world's affection and start earning its respect."

"It is time to protect the people from the law-breakers, and not the other way around."

So keep your eye on What's-His-Name. If Dick Nixon, with his new image, fumbles the stumbles over political land mines along the campaign trail, the man from Sacramento will be standing by to fill the gap.

The average man does so many foolish things every year that by the time he is 50 he staggers under a terrible burden of humiliation.

TOMORROW MAY 21--TUESDAY
AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITION. May 21 - June 21, Madrid, Spain.

A couple were invited to a real swanky masked Halloween Party, so the wife got costumes for both her and her husband. On the night of the party, she developed a terrible headache and told her husband to go without her. He protested, but she said all she was going to do was take a couple of aspirins and go to bed, and there was no need of his good time being spoiled by not attending. So he got into his costume and off he went.

The wife, after sleeping soundly for about an hour, awoke without a sign of pain and as it was just a little after nine, she decided to go to the party. Inasmuch as her husband didn't know what kind of costume she was wearing, she thought it would be a good thing to just slip into the party and observe how he acted when she wasn't around.

This she did -- and as soon as she joined the party, the first one she spied was her husband, cavorting around on the dance floor dancing with first one slick chick and then another, -- copping a little feel here and there. So the wife sidled up to him, and being a rather seductive babe herself, he left his other partner standing high and dry and devoted his attention to the new stuff that had just arrived.

She let him go as far as he wished (naturally) and finally he whispered a little proposition in her ear. This she agreed to, and they went out to one of the cars parked nearby -- etc. -- etc.

Just before the unmasking at midnight, she slipped away, went home and got into bed, wondering what kind of explanation her husband would make as to his behavior. He arrived home about 1:30 a.m. and came right into the bedroom to see how she was. She was sitting up in bed reading, and asked him "What kind of time did you have?" He said, "Oh, the same old thing. You know I never have a good time when you aren't there." Then she said, "Did you dance much?" He said, "Well, I'll tell you. I've danced a dance. When I got there, Peter Jones, Bill Brown, and some of the other guys were stag too, so we went back in the den and played poker. But I'll tell you one thing, that fellow I loaned my costume to, sure had a helluva good time."

A man and his wife entered a dentist's office. "I want a tooth pulled," the wife told the doctor. "And don't bother with gas or novocaine. We're in a hurry."

"Well, you certainly are brave," the dentist exclaimed. "Show me your tooth."

"Henry," she said, turning to her husband, "open your mouth."

Wanting to outdo the lavish presents of her brothers, he gave her mother on her birthday a $50,000 mynah bird with a 4,000-word vocabulary in several languages.

"What did you think of the bird, Mother?" he asked after her birthday.

"Delicious," was the mother's reply.

HELP!
In New York City last week the Welfare Commissioner revealed that a total of 483,573 persons received public aid during the month of June. That almost half-a-million recipients of welfare assistance payments is the total for New York City alone -- not the state.

"Don't get the idea that these people don't work for the welfare payments," cautioned a newspaperman friend. "Every election day, they dutifully march down to the polling place and vote for the candidate who promises to continue and increase the payments. And pre-Columbian vestiges in the ground rules: it had to be plugged in to a 'live' electric outlet in order to keep its muscle power in working order.

The outlet in our bathroom is on the same switch as that room's electric light. To maintain the toothbrush in operating condition, the bathroom light would have to remain on 24 hours a day. Not only would that be a little too much brightness in our lives, but while the toothbrush was charging, the electric company would be charging too.

The dental delight had to be plugged in somewhere -- but when the kitchen, too far afield to make it a practical base, was vetoed. The bedrooms were similarly bypassed. Obviously the living room, with its multitude of live outlets and its proximity to the scene of dental action, was the only possible answer.

So there it sits, trailing its electric cord, on a table behind a flower pot trailing ivy.

If we know in advance that company's coming, we remove the appliance and plug it in somewhere else where it is at least invisible, though temporarily inaccessible.

But the unexpected visitor, coming upon this unusual bit of decor spotlighted under the lamp, never knows whether to comment on its originality or to avert his eyes and pretend it isn't there.

LONG BEFORE COLUMBUS
It seems pretty well established now that the Vikings did indeed discover America century map which shows an accurate representation of the area around the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Yale University scholars, after eight years of research, have authenticated a 15th century map which shows an accurate representation of the area around the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Noted by the Provinces of Canada with the notation: "Discovered by Bjarni Leifsson."

Last year, archeologists found the first actual remains of a Norse settlement in Greenland. There are numerous other pre-Columbian vestiges in the area.

Hal Boyle

By JOY STILEY
NEW YORK (AP) -- We have probably the only apartment in New York City with an electric toothbrush on the living room table.

It may not be the answer to all our decorating problems, but it has certainly solved our toothbrushing problems.

Though a bit out of place among the lamps, ashtrays and potted plants with which it shares display space, it came to its final resting place by the process of elimination.

My husband purchased this automatic tooth cleaner as a surprise -- which I feared might give me something of a shock -- for my birthday. I am dubious about the wisdom of mixing electricity, water and toothpaste, but this time the lazy side of my nature won out over the cautious side.

Actually, I was in no great danger of getting electrocuted while the busy bristles were swishing up and down at the rate of 11,000 strokes per minute. It turned out that there's no electric cord attached to the power handle which holds the toothbrushes. It operates on rechargeable batteries and the electricity all goes into the recharger base, where the handle rests to revitalize itself when it's not in use.

However, there was one drawback to this mechanical marvel, we discovered on reading the ground rules: it had to be plugged in to a "live" electric outlet in order to keep its muscle power in working order.

The outlet in our bathroom is on the same switch as that room's electric light. To maintain the toothbrush in operating condition, the bathroom light would have to remain on 24 hours a day. Not only would that be a little too much brightness in our lives, but while the toothbrush was charging, the electric company would be charging too.

Look Away, Look Away!

New World which popular belief attributes to the Norsemen, particularly the Minnesota runestone and a mysterious tower at Newport, R. I.

The latter, according to some writers, may have been built by the Celts. Books have even been written about possible Roman and Carthaginian expeditions to America.

So far, orthodox historians have rejected evidence offered, mostly by amateurs, of contacts between the old world and the new before Columbus. Until the discovery of the map, even the Norse story of "Vinland" was held in doubt.

An intellectual barrier may now have been breached. It could lead to a fresh look at some old evidence and a search for some new and, eventually, a fascinating revision of our history books.

next-door neighbor's new mink stole, the young wife asked how she had been able to afford such an expensive item.

"You probably won't believe it," her neighbor replied, "but I saved up the money by charging my husband five dollars every time we made love."

That night the young wife announced the new plan to her husband for financing a new mink coat. The hubby went along with the plan, but found that he only had $4.50.

"For $4.50," she stated stubbornly, "you can have a few kisses!"

Hubby took her at her word, but after several minutes, she whispered in his ear, "If it's all the same to you, dear, why don't I lend you fifty cents until tomorrow?"

PIPELINE SECRECY
Following the Pacific Gas and Electric Gas Pipeline explosion in San Jose, Calif., director of utilities Jack Doran reported to the California public utilities commission that he had sent a man to San Jose to investigate pipeline deficiencies.

"What's his name?" asked commissioner William Bennett. "I'd rather not give it," Doran replied.

"Is he a commission employee?" asked Bennett. "Yes," was the answer.

"Does P G and E know who it is?" asked Bennett. "Yes," insisted Bennett. "If the utility company we are regulating knows his name, it's a scandal to withhold it from the commission which hires him."

However, an objection came from commissioner Frank Morrissey, who used to be a rate consultant for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and was put on the Public Utilities Commission by Gov. Ronald Reagan because he was utility-minded. Morrissey called for a vote. And the commission, believe it or not, voted 4 to 1 to withhold from itself the name of its own employee who went to San Jose to probe the pipeline explosion.

This column can reveal, however, that the investigator's name is Jacob Frederickson.

CHICKENS TOSS IN THE TOWEL
The doves and the hawks have now been joined by the chickens.

Chickens are these characters who are loudly moaning. "The Communists are winning. We've had it!"

There's a big difference between chickens and doves and between chickens and hawks. Doves believe the Vietnam war is pointless and that the United States has no business in it. They believed this even when things were going better for us.

Hawks have believed all along that the United States should quit playing for a tie and go for broke.

But chickens didn't have too much to say one way or the other until things suddenly got rougher for us recently. Then they started screaming "uncle!" and they weren't cheering for Uncle Sam. They were, and are, writing him off as a loser.

You can't blame the Commies much if they figure that with enemies like this, who needs friends?

Fiscal responsibility means having enough money left to buy a loaf of bread after you've paid for the case of beer.

H.L. Hunt Says
SALESMEN OF PATRIOTISM
American salesmen are widely regarded as among the best in the world. They are friendly, gregarious, and when they believe in the product they are selling -- which they nearly always do, else they move on to some other product -- vastly convincing. These are qualities that make for excellent salesmen.

They are qualities that can be used, and in many cases are being used, to sell patriotism. This is all to the good. Perhaps never in our Republic's history have effective salesmen for patriotism been more in demand. There is work for them to do every day. It is the most important work that can be imagined.

Public opinion will decide the fate of Republic USA. Those Americans who comprise the more than 85 per cent of the nation's population opposed to communism may organize Teams of freedom for American and the world. They should contact people in business management, public relations departments or advertising companies and undertake to prove to them by word of mouth that a show of patriotism will not be harmful to their business. They could arrange for themselves and their friends to give their patronage to any concern with goods or services to sell that uses patriotic media or patriotic messages in advertising.

Young Americans also can be constructive salesmen of patriotism. And many of them are filling exactly that role, especially those who have enlisted in the fast-growing Youth Freedom Speakers movement. HLH.

Inside Labor
By Victor Riesel

REUTHER GAMBLERS
Woot Teamsters, Miners and Black Workers In Maneuver to Launch New Labor Movement.

Washington D.C. -- Early last week, Walter Reuther, with $82 million in his union's kitty, went shopping for allies.

He dropped in on the recluse, 88-year-old ex-King Coal, John L. Lewis, spiritual head of the miners. Later the redhead drove over to the Teamsters' glistening marble hall to lunch with Frank Fitzsimmons, regent of Jimmy Hoffa's regime.

This was one of Washington's most easily obtained secrets. The two Detroiters had a fine time. Reuther inquired about Jimmy's health, attacked the "fat bottoms" over at the AFL-CIO (though the Teamsters headquarters hardly is the place for such eloquence) and, according to one high Teamsters official, raised some money for the poor people's march.

Phase one ended when Meany threw the behemoth Auto Union out of the massive federation.

Soon there will be phase three. When Reuther returns from Europe he will begin building his own labor federation for the "new generation."

That's what he's sought all along -- his own labor movement. It is in the nature of this restless man. He talks in visions. He sees massed millions cheering below his microphone.

No problem shall be without a solution, and over at the AFL-CIO headquarters the other day they were saying that for every solution Reuther has a problem.

He is a lonely man with no intimates. There is only the "movement."

But in six years the 60-year-old Reuther will face life without such a gargantuan cheering, stomping, whistling companion. The United Auto Workers Union has a rigid compulsory retirement rule.

Thus he will be elected to his last two-year term as president of the 1.6 million-member union in 1972, a few months before he turns 65.

He must step down at the 1974 convention. His successor probably will be the energetic Doug Fraser of the union's Chrysler division.

No one -- but no one -- sees "Walter" taking a golden gavel as a memento, and becoming a retiree at his Fort Myers, Fla., home.

Not at 66 years of age. So the best reading on Reuther now is in his passion for a labor movement of his own.

As he plans it, the new federation or "congress" will be made up of unions which will defect with him from the AFL-CIO, and a network of white-collar people, space-age technicians, nurses, government workers and young people drawn by his oratory, and the "working poor."

These, all of these, he hopes to weave into his new unionism, a grouping of "conglomerates" as diversified as that meat company which packs hams and builds locomotives.

This will be his juggernaut. It will be built around the UAW. What matter if it has but two million members? It is the platform from which he can assail the establishment.

Strangely, for a man who has torn into other labor leader with charges of "banker" mentality, the redhead is compulsive about money. He gives and tells.

He has thrown between $1 and $6 million into the American Federation of Teachers. But it will not follow him out of the AFL-CIO.

He gave the Rubberworker $3 million. But there is no on on that union's executive board who will vote to secede with him.

He carried a $50,000 check down to the Memphis garbage union. But the State, Count and Municipal Employees at among Meany's most avi supporters.

In fact, it was Reuther concentration on money which cost him some support, the only support he had on labor's his council.

His peers read the keynot speech he delivered at the UA convention. They interpreted as derogatory.

It is replete with criticisms of other unions. It minimizes hard-won strike settlements. It loaded with boasts that only UAW made true gains for its members. The other unions copper, or rubber, or steel, for example, merely won "catch-up money," Reuther said again and again.

Nor did he win friends pointing out that unions such as the rubber workers won on when he lent them millions.

His speech appeared to be a compulsive drive for self-motivation. He will discover it on June 14 when George Meany issues a white paper and goes before the redhead's congress, the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Dept., and labor parlance, dumps him from office there.

So it will be across the nation in every city and state body, Meany's aides tell regional union men they must leave their prestigious posts (and pension) So Reuther, who never drinks, smokes or gambles, rolling the dice. If Bob Kenne becomes president, Reuther hopes to replace Meany in high halls of national politics and international diplomacy. His new labor movement goes under way, and he can unblack workers with the new space-age generation, he has a sky-high platform.

But Reuther may yet let the dice when you roll for it stapes, the dice can come green. Even if he wanted to, too late to snatch it back.

The fabulous Kohinoor diamond was first presented to Queen Victoria; it now resides in Queen Elizabeth's crown.

WSCS Plans Picnic

Circles of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church met Thursday, with the program "Being with People Who Hurt" in the continued study on "Search for Identity". The circles also made plans for the picnic to be held in Clayton Park June 6 for the general meeting of the WSCS. Each circle planned menus and assigned members to bring various covered dishes.

Circle one, Mrs. Harold Kiehne, chairman, met at Mrs. Kiehne's home at 9:30 a.m. Twelve members were present and Mrs. E. F. Weidemann was a guest. Mrs. Helen Loud Jones presented the program and worship. She was assisted with the program by Mrs. Weidemann, Mrs. W. S. Vandivort, Mrs. William Bess, and Mrs. Vincent Wissman.

Circle two, Mrs. W. C. Reid, chairman, met at 11 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Louie Largent who also presided. A covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by 11 members and five guests, Mrs. Joseph Wagner and Mrs. E. F. Weidemann. Mrs. M. E. Montgomery presented the program and worship. The meeting closed with a poem read by Mrs. Gid Daniels.

Circle three, Mrs. W. S. Webster, chairman, met at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. William Proffer with Mrs. T. E. Boswell presiding. Thirteen members were present and Mrs. Wagner was a guest. The program was given by Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Allen Gries with Mrs. W. L. Hutters giving the worship.

Circle four, Mrs. Maurice Stauffer, chairman, met at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robley Lennox for a covered dish luncheon. Fifteen members were present and it was reported that four members had perfect attendance for the year. Mrs. E. R. Putman presented the worship service.

Circle five, Mrs. Ruth Finley, chairman, met at noon at the home of Mrs. Finley for a covered dish luncheon. Nine members and one guest, Mrs. Virginia Laub, sister of Mrs. Finley, were present. Mrs. Finley also presented the program, being assisted by Mrs. C. J. Stevens, Mrs. J. M. Pitman, Mrs. Byron Bowman, and Mrs. A. F. Lindsay. Mrs. Ed Swan gave the worship.

Circle six, Mrs. Harold Hill, chairman, met at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Dess Bloomfield with eleven members present. Mrs. Ethel Armstrong gave the worship and Mrs. Raymont Miller presented the program. It was decided to change the meeting time to 2 p.m. starting with the June meeting.

Circle seven, Mrs. Max Chandler, chairman, met at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Allen Hubbard with 11 members present. Mrs. Clifford Gipson was a guest and assisted in presenting the program with Mrs. Garwood Sharp. Mrs. Paul Jobe presented the worship.

Circle eight, Mrs. Ed Aldrich, chairman, met at 8 p.m. Wednesday with Mrs. David Morris, hostess, and Mrs. Tom Gilmore, co-hostess. Mrs. Morris also presented the program which was a continued study on art and music. Eight members were present and Mrs. Wagner installed officers for the coming year and presented the pledge service. Mrs. Richard Giles presented the worship. There will be no meetings held in June, July, and August.

Circle nine, Mrs. A. P. Veasman, chairman, met at 7:30 p.m. last Monday at the home of Mrs. June Freshour with eight members present. Mrs. Rose Parker presented the worship and program, showing a film on pledges. A check from Mrs. Lee Bowman was presented to the guild in memoriam to Mrs. Keith for whom the guild was named. It was voted to give an honorary children's membership to Jill Diane Freshour, daughter of the hostess. The next meeting will be a covered dish dinner at 6:30 p.m. June 10 at the home of Miss Thelma Cook.

Martha Jo Sullivant

Martha Jo Sullivant to Marry Darryl L. Melton

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. -- Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Sullivant announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Martha Jo, to Darryl Lafayette Melton, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Melton of Trumann, Ark.

The bride-elect attended William Woods College in Fulton, Mo., and is a junior at Arkansas Polytechnic College in Russellville.

Melton is a junior recreation major at Arkansas Polytechnic College and is a member of the varsity football, baseball, and track teams.

Ladies Golf Association Tee Time

The ladies Golf Association has completed the first month of the season and is well into the second. Despite the rain, wind and cold weather, the attendance on Tuesdays has been favorable. Approximately 24 women have braved the elements, "slices," "hooks" and "four putts" greens each week.

Hostesses for the luncheons this past month and a half have been Betty Estes, Louie Vincent, Evelyn Campbell, Doris Stepp, June Watson, Mary Bain, Henrietta Ferrell, Peggy Swacker, Brownie Urban, Elizabeth Yates, Mary Kellett and Jo Spitzmiller.

Hostesses Tuesday will be Mary Hale and Beanie Ralph. Thursday a group of golfers will attend guest day at the Cape Girardeau Country Club.

Lennie Wilkens, star guard of the St. Louis (now Atlanta) Hawks, will join the staff of the Bob Vanatta Basketball Camp this summer. He will work at both the June 14th and August 4th sessions.

One of the top performers in the NBA today, Len reached "Superstar" status last season when he sparked the Hawks to 56 victories, the highest total in the history of the western division... on top of being selected to the all-NBA second team, he placed second in the voting for Most Valuable Player honors in the NBA... only Wilt Chamberlain garnered more votes than Lennie... Wilkens also earned a starting role in the league's mid-season all-star game, his fifth all-star game appearance in his eighth pro seasons... Lennie set several individual statistical records in 1967-68 as he became the third highest scorer in a Hawks' uniform with 8,601 career points... only Bob Pettit and Cliff Hagan have scored more points for the Hawks... Last year Len reached the 20-point average plateau for the first time in his eight-year career... he was second on the team in scoring with 1,638 points... Len also set a hawk team record of 679 assists, ranking him second in the NBA to Chamberlain.

Lennie will demonstrate and instruct those fundamental skills of dribbling, shooting and passing that have carried him to "superstar" status. Applications are still being accepted for both sessions for boys 10-18 years of age. Simply write Bob Vanatta Basketball Camp, Mexico, Missouri 65165 to receive information.

Meyr Named Assistant
At SEMO State College

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Ryland Meyr, better known to Southeast Missouri football enthusiasts as "Dutch," resigned his lead coaching position at Cape Girardeau Central high school June 5 to accept an offensive line coaching job at Southeast Missouri State College.

Meyr, who assumed the head football coaching reins at Cape two years ago compiled a 13-5-1 mark, climaxed by the Tiger's 8-1-1 last year against the top prep squads in Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Dutch, a Chaffee native and a graduate of SEMO state started his coaching career as a junior varsity mentor, compiling a 12-1 mark before going to Central during the 1962-63 season as an assistant to Bob Goodwin, who was his school coach at Chaffee. "I really hate to leave Central at this time," Coach Meyr said. "We have a good program here. But, this is a great opportunity for me." Meyr, was an outstanding lineman during his playing days for both Chaffee and State college. He was co-captain of the Indians his senior year and named honorable mention to the little All-American squad as a tackle.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Before Sunday's game against St. Louis Philadelphia's Gary Sutherland said to teammate Chris Short: "Shortie, let's have the sports writers over in this corner after the game."

It was Sutherland's way of telling Short to go out and pitch his first victory since April 19.

The sports writers were in the Short-Sutherland locker area after the game, but all the questioning was directed at Sutherland, a 24-year-old utility infielder and pinch-hitter.

Short, who pitched eight innings, would have been a five-time loser but for locker-mate Sutherland. The Phillies trailed 3-2 with runners at first and second and two out in the ninth when Sutherland batted for relief pitcher Dick Farrell.

Hal Gilson, the fourth St. Louis pitcher, worked the count to 1-1, then threw a slider.

"I don't even know if it was in the strike zone," said Sutherland, who lased the ball over the head of the racing Lou Brock in left field for a two-run, game winning double.

The 4-3 victory was credited to Farrell, his second against no losses.

"I was shaking like a leaf when I went up there," said Sutherland. "The pitch I hit is one I usually don't hit very well. I think it was a low slider. I knew I hit it good, but wasn't sure if it was fair or foul."

Brock, a defensive replacement in the ninth, made a great try for the ball. It just cleared his glove as he leaped in front of the 334-foot marker.

West Plains
Advances To Semi-Finals

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Jackson's bid to represent Southeast Missouri in Friday's semi-finals of the state high school baseball tournament in Springfield failed Friday against West Plains.

The regional winners over Sikeston rode home a pair of runs in the fifth inning to change a 2-1 game to a 3-2 lead for themselves and held on for a victory.

West Plains, 5-2 winner over Sikeston a week ago, rode the three-hit pitching of Gaylord Gregory into the semi-finals.

Jackson's failure to hold its 2-1 lead in the fifth inning proved the decisive point. A pair of back to back wild pitches sent the lead and go-ahead run in for the Plainsman.

With one out, two West Plains batters singled, bringing up their clean-up hitter, Roger Cromer, who drew two wild pitches.

West Plains faces Sedalia Friday at Meador Park in Springfield.

New Way Found
To Stop Hair Loss,
Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself.

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation.

Circuit Court

BENTON: These cases were heard here recently:

North Ridge Co. vs. Roosevelt Johnson, ACCOUNT. Plaintiff's attorneys in Court. Defendant present, with his attorney's, also.

Parties announce ready for trial, so a jury of 12 men is called, qualified and the case submitted to them.

The plaintiff's evidence is presented, and at its close, plaintiff's attorneys file a Motion for a Directed verdict which Judge Craig sustains.

Defendant's attorney's then files a Motion for a Directed verdict just opposite to plaintiff's, which the Judge overrules.

The defendant's attorney's then presented his side of the case. At its conclusion, the Judge gave instructions to the jury, who, at 5:00 p.m. retired to consider its verdict.

At 5:12 p.m., the same day, the jury returned to the Courtroom and announced it had reached a verdict. "We, the jury, find the issues in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, and assess plaintiff's damages at $330.00."

Jury is discharged and verdict ordered filed.

Judgment in accordance with verdict.

Kathy Boyer vs. J. F. Rose, DAMAGES.

Leave granted plaintiff to file First Amended Petition.

Joe Hall, et al. vs. Danny Brock, PERSONAL INJURIES.

Leave granted parties to file Stipulation for Dismissal and case is dismissed with prejudice, at cost to defendant.

Hazel Jones vs. Duane Pate, DAMAGES.

Case set for trial, Aug. 12, 1968, by agreement.

L. L. Byrd vs. Hugh Stevens, PERSONAL INJURIES.

Upon Motion of plaintiff, his petition is dismissed, without prejudice.

B. G. Partin vs. Ivy J. Bond, et al, PERSONAL INJURIES.

Leave granted plaintiff to file 1st Amended Petition.

COLD - SINUS Miseries?

Is your head pounding-nose running-are your eyes watering and are you sneezing-sneezing-sneezing? Have you blown your nose until it is raw? We're sorry you're suffering so because obviously you're not aware of our product SYNA-CLEAR and this is our fault. SYNA-CLEAR is the original timed release tablet that gives up to eight hours of real relief from head cold symptoms and clogged up sinuses. We do not have millions to spend on T.V. to tell you about SYNA-CLEAR, just this small ad. We do not gimmick our advertising and product by offering twelve hours of medication. What is medication without relief? SYNA-CLEAR is what we offer and it gives you eight hours of relief per tablet or your money back in full. We could go into detail how our product works and about the fine formula, but we would rather you ask the experts about SYNA-CLEAR. The druggist at the store listed below or your family doctor can tell you about the merits of our fine formula. SYNA-CLEAR costs more ($1.50 and $3.00 sizes) because it does more. You're buying relief and not gimmicks. Try SYNA-CLEAR as soon as possible - you know - all your head cold symptoms and clogged up sinuses are all you can lose. This little ad has an awful big job to do - to get you to try SYNA-CLEAR, so as a bonus, we extend an

Introductory Offer Worth $1.50

Cut out this ad - write your name on it and take it to your favorite drug store. Purchase one box of SYNA-CLEAR 12's and receive one more absolutely FREE. If you have time to tell us about the results SYNA-CLEAR gave you, we would be pleased to hear from you.

TRAFFIC CODE CHANGED
HONOLULU (AP) Traffic violators in Honolulu no longer face the possibility of a jail sentence for minor traffic offenses.

The Honolulu City Council recently approved the amendment to the city traffic code, and also reduced the maximum fine from $1,000 to $200.

City Councilman Ben F. Kaito said major traffic offenders still will face a possible jail sentence under state law. Kaito said he hopes fewer appeals will be made to Circuit Court where the violator demands a jury trial. He said traffic appeals have been causing jams on the Circuit Court dockets.

Thirteen farmers in Scott County don't have to depend upon the weather this year to insure they will have a wheat crop.

Otto Kuntze, fieldman for the federal crop insurance corporation from the district office at 603 Powell St., New Madrid, says nearly 1,000 acres in the county already are under all-risk protection for 1968 and 1969 as farmers are taking no chances on the weather.

Scott County farmers taking advantage of the all-risk features of federal crop insurance against damage by any natural cause. For the 1968 crop, this added up to more than $36,000 in invested farm dollar protection in the county.

Kuntze is in the county explaining the government-sponsored insurance program and taking applications for protection on the 1969 wheat crop.

Missouri farmers took advantage of the program this year by protecting more than $1.3 million in 1968 wheat crop dollar investments.

The word turnpike is derived from the hinged poles or pikes used to halt travelers until a toll was paid. The World Almanac says. After payment, the pike was turned to allow the traveler to pass. From circa 1800 to 1840, a great era in U.S. turnpike construction, tollgates were six to 10 miles apart and tolls were from 10 to 25 cents a vehicle.

CAMERA ANGLES

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Photography is an interest, a hobby or a business in which progress and improvement are markedly advanced by experience. Like other skills, the more you practice, the better you get.

But unlike many other activities, you can practice photography and acquire proficiency in handling a camera without taking pictures. When you wish to short-circuit the amount of time needed to gain experience, you can resort to camera "homework," a careful study and practice in the mechanics of handling your photo equipment... without film in the camera.

You start by gathering the various instruction booklets which came with the camera, strobe or flash unit, etc., along with the equipment itself. A second, later look at instructions can be more illuminating than it was originally; the equipment and its operation are usually easier to understand.

Next comes a dry run in equipment handling. Many camera fans are awkward when they load film. There's a knack to doing it smoothly and correctly, so sacrifice a roll of film in order to practice doing it over and over again. Eventually you'll get the feel of fumble-free loading so that you can think of what you're about to shoot instead of worrying about whether the film is in right.

With film in the camera, some time should be devoted to establishing a personal technique for holding it firmly but comfortably while squeezing the shutter release or when shifting from a horizontal to a vertical view or back again. You should avoid an insecure grip which invites camera movement by jabbing the release; search for and adopt a stance suited to your own hands and muscle tension.

Having established a good camera grip, the next step is to practice shifting shutter speeds and lens openings quickly but understandably. When you need to change to a faster or slower speed or to a larger or smaller aperture, you should be able to do so unhesitatingly and with certainty.

Another camera skill which becomes easier with practice is the ability to focus quickly and accurately. Shift your attention from a distance to a close-up object and see how fast you can pinpoint your target. You can make a game out of "guesstimating" distances and checking your guesses with the actual footage shown on the camera's distance scale. On many picture-shooting occasions, it may be easier to select a point at which a person will appear to enhance the composition; set the scale for that distance and shoot when the conditions are right.

Experienced photographers often set their cameras for a "six-foot," "eight-foot" or a "12-foot" shot, knowing the precise combinations for perfect exposures for each distance, especially with flash pictures. With a little experimentation, you can make your own camera setting combinations for future close-up, full-figure and group pictures. Instead of shifting focus, you can step forward or backward a foot or two to the pre-set distance.

Become thoroughly familiar with your flash unit calculations and make a practice run with your camera. A test should reveal whether any adjustment in guide number is necessary for your camera. A scale for 6, 8 and 12-foot shots could then be attached to the back of your reflector for handy reference.

Homework of this nature should add up to more confident camera handling in picture-taking situations in the future and the results should be better pictures!

The transport workers of New York have just obtained a 5% wage increase this year, to be followed by 6% in 1969. These are not only double the normal guidelines of 2% to 3%, but are augmented by many fringe benefits, particularly the right to retire at age fifty, if one has served twenty years, on a pension amounting to one-half of one's final pay.

As there is no possibility of offsetting increased costs by increasing productivity, this settlement, as in the case of policemen, firemen and sanitary workers, is very inflationary. A man making change in a subway booth cannot serve more customers even though he is being paid much more money. A motorman cannot drive more trains more miles even though his wages are increased.

It just is not possible for American workers to be paid twice as much as they are now receiving. The arrangements that have been made for paying policemen, firemen, sanitation workers and now transit workers, if they become general for other workers, will force this country into a balloon ascension of rapidly rising inflation. It will bring the destruction of accumulated savings, further drastic loss in the purchasing power of the dollar, and the inevitable moment of truth when we must acknowledge the bitter facts and make a new start. All this need not be, if we would be willing to live on what we earn, and not continually seek by fair and foul means some of the wealth of others. In the long run there is no such thing as consuming more than we produce. If some get more, such as the groups just mentioned, it means that others must live on less, or that we inflate out through the roof and then, with great hardship and suffering, start again to rebuild the wealth of America.

In all this confusion of money, race, greed, politics, ambition, self-interest and nationalism, there is a devil's stew that is presented fictionally—but it makes more understandable the short Israeli-Arab war of last June. This is a case in which fiction illuminates actuality.

West proved his skill as a teller of vivid yarns with "The Devil's Advocate" and "The Shoes of the Fisherman," both of which became very popular. This novel is in the same league.

By

Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

High Cost of Retirement

AFTER 20 years of service, and regardless of age, policemen, firemen and sanitation workers in New York City may retire on a pension equal to half of their final annual pay. A worker in any of these three services who began at age twenty might, therefore, retire at age forty and for the rest of his life receive one half of his final pay. If he lives on to the age of eighty, he is, therefore, drawing half pay for forty years. Half pay for forty years will total considerably more than his salary during his twenty working years, because it is half of his final pay, which is much more than his starting pay. His total cost to the taxpayers of New York City is therefore more than double the amount he received during his working years.

Something may be said for the fact that the work of a fireman and a policeman is somewhat hazardous. But there is little hazard, it would seem, in working in the sanitation department. Moreover, while the work of a policeman and a fireman may be arduous, few will agree that a man at age forty or forty-five is not capable of performing the duties of these occupations.

The transport workers of New York have just obtained a 5% wage increase this year, to be followed by 6% in 1969. These are not only double the normal guidelines of 2% to 3%, but are augmented by many fringe benefits, particularly the right to retire at age fifty, if one has served twenty years, on a pension amounting to one-half of one's final pay.

As there is no possibility of offsetting increased costs by increasing productivity, this settlement, as in the case of policemen, firemen and sanitary workers, is very inflationary. A man making change in a subway booth cannot serve more customers even though he is being paid much more money. A motorman cannot drive more trains more miles even though his wages are increased.

Ann Landers

Locked Car Hazard to Child

Dear Ann Landers: Last summer you printed an excellent letter warning parents against locking their children in cars while they went shopping. Often they intended to be gone only a few moments and stayed longer. In some instances they stayed away only a few minutes but tragedy struck swiftly and something terrible happened.

Summer will be here before we know it. I hope you will print my letter as a reminder to parents that if they don't want to take their children into the stores they should leave them at home. Never, and I mean never, should a child be left in a locked car.

A few months ago my husband was walking past a department store parking lot. He saw two children huddled together in the back seat of a car. Smoke seemed to be curling out of the windows. My husband tried to open the car door but it was locked. He then discovered the front seat was on fire. He broke the window, opened the car door and pulled the children out.

They had been playing with the cigarette lighter on the dashboard. It got hot so they dropped it on the seat. If my husband had not walked by at that moment the children surely would have suffocated or been burned to death.

Please, Ann, print this letter. People need to be reminded from time to time. —RUBY

Dear Ruby: Here's your letter and I print it as a reminder to parents everywhere. Reading this column could be the most important thing you did all day.

Dear Ann Landers: Baseball season is here and you have probably received a zillion letters from wives of TV sports fans. May I play Ann Landers for a few minutes?

Dear Sisters: So your husband is glued to the TV? Well, you're lucky. My husband is a salesman. He works from 10 to 12 hours a day. When he is not out selling he is out buying—broke the window, opened the car door and pulled the children out. They had been playing with the cigarette lighter on the dashboard. It got hot so they dropped it on the seat. If my husband had not walked by at that moment the children surely would have suffocated or been burned to death.

If You Were the Judge Attack on Umpire Not Manager's Fault

Andy spent more time arguing with the manager of the home team one afternoon, than umpiring the baseball game. Almost every time he made a call, the manager would fly out of the dugout and engage Andy in an eyeball to eyeball talkfest. And, while Andy never agreed with the manager, the partisan home town crowd did.

The result: By the end of the game the fans were so furious at umpire Andy that he needed police protection to leave the stadium. Unfortunately, however, the police protection proved insufficient. Two fans broken through their escort and broke Andy's nose in two places. Blaming the incident on the manager, Andy sued him for his injuries.

"It was obviously all his fault," Andy told the judge. "He fanned the fury of the fans by constantly protesting my calls."

"What'd he expect," was the manager's answer. "As an umpire, he was no gem on the diamond. The way he was calling balls and strikes he should have been umpiring in jail. Besides, as manager, it was my job to protect bad calls."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you make the manager pay for the umpire's battering?

This is how the judge ruled: No! The judge held that the unsportsmanlike act of the fans was not so directly related to the manager's protests so as to hold him accountable for the assault; that a baseball manager cannot be saddled with the responsibility of every emotionally unstable person who becomes enraged over a call by an umpire, which may be protested by a manager, or who arrives at a ball game spoiling from a domestic upheaval.

If you think staying in school is tough, listen to someone who quit.

"At first it was great. Being on my own. Working. Getting paid. But there I'd be, doing the delivery jobs, and the guy sitting next to me, he'd be the one that was moving up. I'd get fed up and change jobs. But the same thing always happened. It wasn't the boss's fault. And I'm not dumb. I just didn't have the education. So I said to myself, you don't want to spend your whole life being low man. And I worked nights and got some education. It sure does open doors. Now I'm actually turning down good jobs if they're not exactly what I want."

DANNY PEREZ
Based on an interview taped April 6, 1967

To get a good job, you need a good education. So if you're in school, stay there. If you've quit, find out how to get more training. See your State Employment Service or Youth Opportunity Center.

THE APARTMENT HOUSE ADMIRAL SEEMS DEDICATED TO OPENING THE DOOR FOR YOU EVERY TIME...

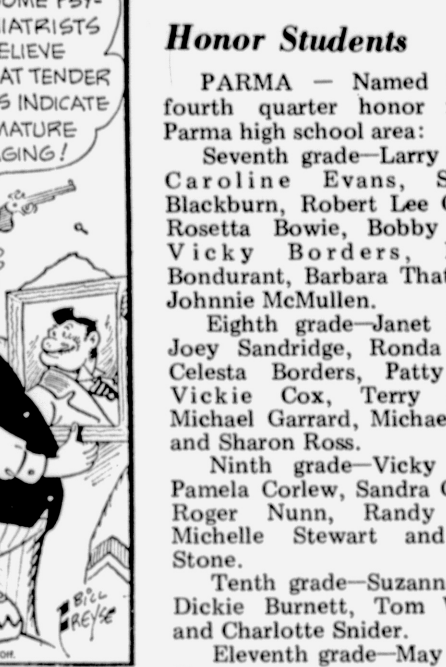

UNTIL, THAT IS, YOU'RE LOADED WITH BUNDLES... THEN HE'S MR. MISSING PERSONS BUREAU...

YOU'RE ALWAYS BRAGGING ABOUT BEING A NEIGHBORHOOD POWER... HOW ABOUT DROPPING IN A SHROUD OVER THOSE NOISY NEW NEIGHBORS?

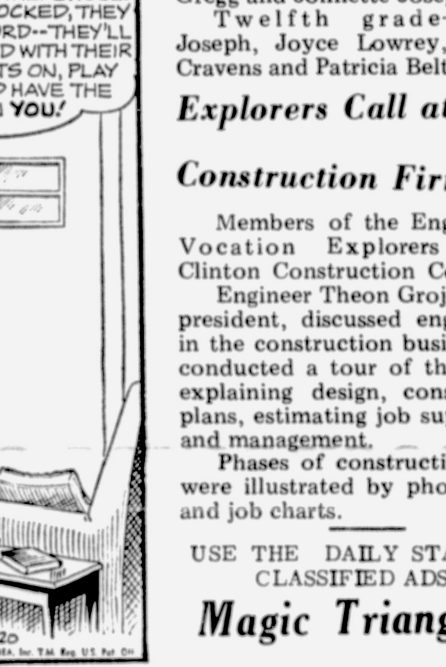

THE ONLY THING THEY DO QUIETLY IS OPEN THEIR BILLS!

I'M LOCKING THE CLOSET DOOR TO PROVE SOMETHING! THE WAY THE REST OF THIS FAMILY TOSSES COATS AND HATS AROUND THE HOUSE, I'LL BET WHEN THEY COME IN NOT ONE OF THEM WILL DISCOVER THEY CAN'T OPEN IT!

THE GAG'S TOO CHANCY FOR THAT! CREW, IF THEY SHOULD WIND OUT IT'S LOCKED, THEY WON'T SAY A WORD—THEY'LL JUST SIT AROUND WITH THEIR OUTER GARMENTS ON, PLAY IT STRAIGHT, AND HAVE THE LAST LAUGH ON YOU!

Realtor Week Gets Underway

"Home is Where Security Starts, Don't Wait in '68" is the theme of the 1968 Realtor Week celebration by the 20 members of the Sikeston Board of Realtors, Charles M. Mitchell, president, announced today.

Throughout the week, Mitchell continued, community-wide observances are scheduled as Realtors in the area join with more than 85,000 colleagues throughout the nation in directing attention to the services they render.

Realtor Week activities this year will be closely tied in with the broad "Make America Better" program of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, which was launched in February to help solve the major problems of our cities and towns.

"This seven-objective program was undertaken since Realtors and other experts agree that the betterment of housing for low-income families cannot be achieved unless other problems which are deeply involved in the social unrest in our cities can be concurrently solved," Mitchell pointed out.

"Highlighted under the Make America Better Program are such vital areas important to the achievement of stability and safety in our cities as reducing juvenile delinquency and crime; family education and training programs; rehabilitation and construction; education and training of children at earlier ages to provide employment capabilities; changes in restrictive practices which unduly increase construction costs; and cooperation and assistance with local organizations in the enactment of these and similar proposals."

In discussing the Realtor's code of ethics, Mitchell said that it was one of the first such codes adopted in the history of American business. Under its 30 articles, which cover all aspects of real estate transactions, Realtors pledge their fair treatment and their total real estate knowledge to both parties of a contract -- the buyer and seller.

"Our board was formed in 1945, while the parent group, the National Association of Real Estate Boards, was founded in 1908," he concluded. "With offices in Washington, D. C., and Chicago, NAREB furnishes Realtors with the latest information on real estate developments, market conditions, economic trends, and new techniques."

Chaffee Police Receive Raise

CHAFFEE -- The Chaffee city council Thursday night gave the city's three police officers raises, effective June 1.

Police Chief Raymond Rowell, who now earns $325 per month, will be raised to $375 per month. The department's one lieutenant, now paid $300 per month, will be increased to $325. And the sergeant, now making $300 per month, will earn $312.50.

Aldermen approved the increases on the recommendation of C. H. Duncan, representing Chaffee police commissioners who studied the pay scale.

Morehouse Resident Dies

MOREHOUSE -- James C. Cornell, 88, died at 3:20 p.m. Sunday in the Missouri Delta Community hospital in Sikeston.

He was born Jan 29, 1880, in Powhatan, Ohio.

Survivors are one son, James E. Cornell of Morehouse; one daughter, Mrs. Martha Clark of Morehouse; one sister, Mrs. Anna Moore of Houston; one brother, Walter Cornell of Morehouse one granddaughter; two great-grandchildren and one great-great-granddaughter.

The body is at the Clark residence.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist church with the Rev. J. L. Bishop assisted by the Rev. Ernest Bragg officiating.

Burial will be in the Triplett cemetery near Essex with Nunnelee Funeral Home of Sikeston in charge.

Addition to Be Built on Cape Building

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Southeast Missouri State College has issued a contract to Crites and Sailer Construction Co. to build a major addition to the Parker Women's physical education building. Construction is expected to start in a few days.

The contract figure is $789,684.50. Dr. Mark F. Scully, president of the college, said the college has applied for a federal grant to help finance the project.

In other college developments, officials are still waiting for a response to the college's application for a loan to begin a new dormitory project.

Dr. Scully said the application for a loan of $2,000,000 - the maximum allowed - is on file with the Housing and Urban Development agency at Fort Worth, Tex.

The president of the college pointed out that $2,000,000 will not begin to build a dormitory complex at present costs, but that such a loan - should it be approved - would be used to build the "first leg of something a lot bigger."

The area along Henderson west of the present campus has been mentioned as the most likely site of the next dormitory project.

7:13 p.m. Sunday that a breakin had occurred at Branum's Laundry, 809 West Malone.

Kelley told police he was working around his house when he saw a boy crawling through a back window of the laundry. He said he then went to the window and two other boys ran. The boy inside said he was just looking around, and he ran, Kelly said. Police investigated, but nothing was reported taken. The window on the south side of the building had been broken, police reported.

Ten persons were arrested during the weekend: Stillie Andrews, route four, Sikeston, was charged Sunday night with destruction of private property and leaving the scene in connection with knocking over two speaker poles at the Delta Drive in Theatre Sunday night. He was arrested in Sikeston and transferred to Scott county authorities.

Odie Ferrell and Gustava Ferrell, both of Cape Girardeau, were charged Saturday with shoplifting a carton of cigarettes at Barkett's Big Star. George Payne, Walnut Ridge, Ark., was charged by police Sunday with public intoxication. Willie McGee, 107 Frisco, and Gene Yokley, 122 West Kathleen, were each charged today with operating a motor vehicle without a city automobile license.

Phyllis Bridges, 915 North Ranney, was charged Saturday with supplying intoxicants to a minor. Oscar Northern, 17, Benton, and Lonnie Edward Cook, 17, 1617 Hart, were each charged Saturday with illegal possession of intoxicants.

Richard Lee Field, 309 Scott St., was charged Sunday with improper parking. He was charged Saturday with assault and battery.
